INTRODUCTION

This book will teach you to recognize and identify the Priestess Within and other Priestess' in your midst.

There are 3 Major Qualities or Signs you should look for and I will tell you what they are and how to cultivate these attributes to assist you in fulfilling your calling to the Priesthood and realizing your full potential as a Priestess along your spiritual path.

Whether you are a Priestess/Priest, High Priestess/High Priest or otherwise, know that you are a divine being with divine gifts meant to be discovered and utilized to help bring you and others into your “most highest” achievements and full potential. Man, Know Thyself because Self Knowledge is the Key to Life Mastery on earth and Eternal Life in the Highest Realms. And so it is!

The First Sign – The 6th Sense

What is a Priestess or High Priestess? A Priestess is a medium or Assistant to a medium of the Divine Higher Realms which include the Most High (Incomprehensible Creator of All that Is), the Angelic Realms, Your Higher Self, and Ancestor Realms to name a few.

To be a medium is similar to being a Mediator such as Christ. As a mediator, a High Priestess/Priestess can negotiate between the higher realms and the earth realms in order to communicate higher knowledge to earth people. Receiving higher knowledge is essential to the evolutionary growth of humanity and as a Priestess, you are an essential piece of this process.

The ability to receive higher knowledge will assist humanity in its evolutionary processes of personal and spiritual development, therefore, it is important that you as a Priestess/High Priestess understand your purpose and operate functionally in that role.

In this book, I will give you the Universal Theory based on Ancient wisdom of Universal Law that applies to all people of earth and transcends all cultures and religion so that you have a good general basis of knowledge. You will find this knowledge in every type of Priesthood that is based on spiritual evolution and soul perfection.

A word to the wise: Any path that does not respect the Universal Laws of Creation based on Ascension of the Soul is a soul trap and should be tread with caution. To learn more, see me for counsel.

That being said, the First Sign of a Priestess is the ability to receive knowledge through Extrasensory Perception (ESP). This includes and is not limited to Clairvoyance, Clairaudience and Telepathy, as well as, Clairsentience and other gifts.

These gifts or abilities tend to be recognized early in life and typically lead to spiritual pursuits for the individual child that is called to the Priesthood. Not every child with gifts is called. Most of these abilities are given to most children and lost over time due to their environment. However, a number of gifted children, not called to the Priesthood, are used in the world in a variety of powerful ways for healing, soul restoration and direction toward the Divine.

So, if you feel called to the Priesthood to help humanity along the divine path, know that there are many ways to serve that may not require knowledge of Priestess duties and functions. We have many examples in history and myth of great souls who assisted the Priestess/Priest in their duties both directly and indirectly. At the end of the day we are all in one shape or form working to fulfill the Great Call of restoring the human spirit to the divine path on its journey of evolution and personal soul perfection. And so it is!

The Second Sign – Healing Gifts

The second sign that you are a Priestess/High Priestess is a strong compulsion towards healing others. This again will begin in early childhood and can be recognized as a soul disposition towards compassion and concern for others in a variety of forms. This can manifest as a Savior Mentality and lead many would be Priestess down a road of co-dependency toward others. Ultimately, these souls as they continue along their path will evolve and gravitate towards an interest in a number of different healing modalities. These include and are not limited to the Ancient Healing Arts of:

Healing with Art & Handmade Tools/Technologies

Healing with Tones & Sounds

Healing with Song & Dance

Healing with Herbs & Crystals

Healing with Physical Touch

And so on....

As a Priestess/High Priestess your ability to communicate and receive from the divine Higher Realms will teach you how to integrate your chosen healing modality toward self-healing on a soul level that will eventually evolve into a practice. This practice is your gift and your calling area of service for the Priesthood. As you focus on developing your relationship with the Higher Realms, most specifically, Your Higher Self, you will be guided how to perfect this area of service.

Your full attention should begin with self-healing, personal and spiritual development and perfection of your gift before pursuing a practice towards healing others and this is for good reason. That reason being, you will fall into the soul trap of service without the solid connection fully developed between your Higher Self and your conscious mind. This will set you up for delusion and ultimate defeat which can be identified by overwhelming feelings of lack because you are draining yourself without a firm practice of replenishing soul power.

Do not worry that you are doing anything wrong or that you must know everything before helping someone. Just be aware that as a Priestess your first job is to love and heal yourself. Just take it slow and one day at a time focused on your ultimate reality of the Priesthood moving forward and you will be guided. No worries. You are not in this alone. Your Higher Self is multidimensional and omnipotent. Your Job is to know that part of yourself. Once you do, your healing power will take full effect.

The Third Sign – High Priestess Teaching Gifts

The third and final sign of the Priestess is recognized by a calling to teach. Once this ability is recognized, it's a sure sign that a person is called as a High Priest or Master Teacher. This is a wonderful path to be on for those who are called, for you have within you a glorious jewel that is expressed by feelings of joy and elation whenever you are called to teach!

This again can be recognized in the smallest of children who have natural born leadership qualities and as they mature naturally begin teaching in one form or another. A High Priestess/Priest will be identified as a Master at (and not limited to):

Teaching by Spoken Word

Teaching by Written Word

Teaching by Example

The High Priestess will naturally have a compulsion to learn and an extraordinary rate. Learning comes very easy for these souls and tends to be towards self-mastery, spiritual development, and esoteric knowledge. These powerful souls have previous life experience where they have already mastered a certain level of being that has caused their consciousness to evolve to an advanced state before birth in this timeline. As they mature on their path, they advance quickly beyond their peers in spiritual knowledge. I am one of those souls and have much to share on this topic. If you feel you are also called as a Master Teacher in your specific area or calling, please feel free to contact me for counseling. I love assisting in this area for the path is quite predictable and can be easily maneuvered once you gain clarity.

Priestess' are also called to teach and may not be called to the duties of High Priestess. As a Healer, the Priestess will teach her students the principles of healing and soul advancement, etc. but she may not delve too deeply into the mysteries of the soul and transmutation which is transcending all realms of existence. However, as a High Priestess/Priest you will naturally be called to these areas of existence that you may communicate and receive from the Divine Higher Realms specifically.

This can be experienced in meditation, astral projection, lucid dreaming, and magickal practice to name a few. If you gravitate towards knowledge of this nature and feel called to the Priesthood it is likely that you are being called as a High Priestess not able only to communicate with and for the divine but also able to master physical reality in all its facets of experience and understanding to realize yourself as an ascended Master in the Higher Realms.

Almost everyone has the capacity to become an Ascended Master which is union with your Higher Self, however, not all in this current timeline. And so it is!

CONCLUSION

In closing, I have identified several ways to recognize if you are a Priestess or High Priestess/Priest. While these attributes may identify some, they by no means exclude anyone. There are many ways to know and identify yourself and others. I am just offering some general guidelines that will not conflict with any of your further findings. Please feel free to contact me should you desire to share any further findings with me, I would love to learn more as I am very much still on my path of evolutionary growth and self-mastery!

Thank you so much for reading this far and allowing me to share my gift with you. I greatly look forward to learning more about all of you Priestess' out there, how you are growing and how this book has helped you along your path.

This book will continually be updated as I move forward in teaching what I have learned, so be sure to receive my updates at <http://updates.houseofsekhmet.com>

Much love and many blessings to you! I am so grateful to be a part of your journey and a part of this Great Work of Ascension and Human Transmutation on our planet! And so it is!
